

PRESS RELEASE - LEIGH THE SPARTAN - FLOATING OUT

Release Date – 6th July 2023

Leigh The Spartan's debut single Floating Out marks the arrival of an exciting, original talent in British music. A blend of atmospheric, cinematic production, soulful vocals and thought-provoking lyrical flow, the song explores some of the key issues young people face today, from relationships and mental health to outright self-avoidance. At a time when many of his peers are struggling to rebalance and find their way in the post-covid era, he offers a strikingly personal take on challenging times.

“Hugely talented and on the rise!

Plenty of promise showing here for Leigh The Spartan, definitely an artist to keep an eye out for in 2023 and beyond!”

Ras Kwame (Presenter, Capital Xtra)

“He's really got the potential to be the next voice of a generation”

MistaJam (Artist, Producer, DJ & Presenter, Capital Dance)

Artists Biog

Leigh The Spartan is an 19 year old producer, singer, rapper and multi- instrumentalist from North London. He studied Music at The Brits School and Production at Point Blank. Although this is his first solo single Leigh the Spartan hails from a highly respected musical family and has been involved in music for many years, performing at festivals with the likes of Jazz Jamaica and Gary Crosby's Guava. He has recorded with MistaJam, Vula, Laura White and award-winning jazz artist Cherise. He has done studio sessions with Grammy Award winning producer Seani B and Ollie Knight, and written for film and TV music production company Dirty Soup.

“Music should make you feel something, I always trying to push the musical boundaries drawing inspiration from everywhere and all genres, I love the realness and storytelling of Kendrick Lemar, J-Coles flo, Tyler the Creator for his off the scale innovation and Giggs for just pure vibes. I'm also heavily influenced by soundtracks and scores and their ability to transport you to another world” Leigh The Spartan
